

NOT SPACE FOR ALL GAYNOR MOURNERS

Committee Unable to Grant Requests for Seats in Trinity Church.

NAME HONORARY ESCORT

Prominent Citizens in Delegation to Represent Public at Funeral Service.

Final arrangements for the opening of the City Hall to the public to-day were made last night by the committee in charge of the funeral of Mayor Gaynor. Robert Adamson, on behalf of the committee, gave out the following statement to the public last night:

"The remains of the late Mayor will lie in state to-morrow, Sunday, and the doors of the City Hall will be thrown open to every one who desires to pay final respect to his memory from 8 A. M. until 10 P. M.

"The committee has completed arrangements for the funeral on Monday, the details of which will be announced in full in to-morrow morning's newspapers.

"The committee desires to call to the attention of the official and honorary escort of citizens the fact that cards of admission to the City Hall have been sent to their addresses, and all of the members of these bodies are requested to be at City Hall not later than 10 o'clock to-morrow, Monday, morning.

Compelled to Disappoint Many.

"The committee feels that it is necessary to call particular attention to this because so many people who are in the habit of being out of the city for the week end may not have received their tickets in time.

"The members of the honorary escort, whose names appear below and to whom cards of admission to City Hall have been sent, are requested to inquire at their city addresses for their cards in ample time to be at City Hall at 10 o'clock.

"The committee regrets that it has been compelled to disappoint so many individuals and organizations who desired to pay their last tribute to the memory of the late Mayor. So many applications for seats at the church were received that the committee has not even had time to read many of them. Therefore the vast number of those who have not received tickets will understand the reason why."

"The statement gives the full list of the citizens' honorary escort, which has only been partially published before, as follows:

POLLOCK STABLES BURNED.

Garage at Pittsfield Estate of New York Man Is Saved.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 20.—Fire destroyed the stables to-night at Hgimdale, the country place of Mr. and Mrs. William Pollock of New York on the Lenox road, and caused damage of more than $30,000. Stable men were absent when the fire started and its origin is unknown.

Four horses were saved, as were many of the vehicles and much of the stable equipment.

The stables were of wood. The interior finishings were in hard woods and every appointment was of the best.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock in their entertainments of the Berkshire Hunt Club used the stables for meeting the riders and guests and served breakfast in the vehicle room.

The garage, which adjoins the stables, was threatened, and all of the automobiles and supplies were removed, but concrete construction saved this structure.

Four men are believed to have been engaged in the robbery, from the footprints they left.

OFFICE BOY HIS OWN BURGLAR.

Ear of Friend's Anger Makes Eddie Goff Confess.

Eddie Goff, 14 years old, office boy for Albert F. Hartman, a real estate man of 225 Alexander avenue, The Bronx, took $14 which a tenant brought in while his employer was out to lunch yesterday, tied and gagged himself and said he had been robbed by two men. When detectives threatened to tell Father Donlin of St. Jerome's Church the boy broke down and confessed the money was in his shoes.

Mr. Hartman found Eddie trussed up like a chicken. New rope bound his arms and legs to a chair, a rat sack was in his mouth and over his head was a turkish towel.

"Gosh, boss," said the boy, "two big guys come in here and grabbed me and said they'd 'roak' me if I hollered, and took some money out the drawer and wrote something on a piece of paper and beat it. Gosh, I was scared and I was afraid to fight when they tied me up. Gosh, it was awful."

On the table was a note. It said: "We got you at last. Ask the Kid where the money is. Signed A. L. and J. M."

Hartman untied Eddie and called detectives. Tierney and Doyle of the Alexander avenue station responded. They asked James McKirgan, a barber next

An incendiary is held responsible for the fire, which started in a shed at the rear of the building and worked to the top of the house speedily. Mr. and Mrs. Hurley had been married about six months. The woman died in an ambulance and her husband died several hours later in the hospital. Firemen tried several times to enter the Hurley apartment at the top of the building, but flames drove them back.
